Phonebook Description

- Each database element will have a name, an email address and a phone number. Database $\rightarrow$ text file.

- The software shall interact with the user to allow him to :
  - Add a new element.
  - Delete an old element.
  - Search for element parameters by name or number.
  - Edit an element parameters.

- Project structure (source files and header files)